Dear Chairman Risch, Chairman Chabot, Ranking Member Cardin, and Ranking Member Velazquez:

As you know, the National Defense Authorization Act for fiscal year (FY) 2012 reauthorized the Small Business Innovation Research (SBIR) and the Small Business Technology Transfer (STTR) programs. Section 5143(c) of the statute requires the Inspector General of a Federal agency that participates in the SBIR or STTR programs to submit an annual report describing its investigations involving those programs. The U.S. Department of Education (ED) participates in the SBIR program; however, ED does not participate in the STTR program as it does not have an extramural research or research and development budget in excess of $1 billion.

Below you will find data required from my office for the SBIR program covering FY 2018. ED SBIR program staff reported that its total SBIR obligation in FY 2018 was $8.1 million. As ED administers some 110 programs and disburses about $340 billion, the SBIR is a relatively small program within ED.

(1) The number of cases referred to the Office of Inspector General (OIG) that relate to fraud, waste, or abuse with respect to the SBIR program.

For FY 2018, 0 cases were referred to the OIG involving the SBIR program.

(2) Report the actions taken in each case if fraud, waste, or abuse was determined to have occurred.

N/A

(3) If no action was taken, report the justification for action not being taken.

N/A

(4) Provide an accounting of the funds used to address fraud, waste, and abuse in the SBIR program, including a description of personnel and resources funded and funds that were recovered or saved.

For the last several years, including most recently in September 2017, the OIG has conducted video training sessions/webinars aimed at assisting SBIR grant recipients in identifying and addressing fraud, waste, and abuse involving the SBIR programs. As they are done over the internet, the training costs are nominal, averaging $500. The next training is scheduled for October 19, 2018.

We will track and follow up on any allegations or complaints we receive involving ED's SBIR program and will be certain to describe our efforts in future reports. If you have any questions or if you need any additional information, please do not hesitate to contact me directly at (202) 245-6900, or have a member of your staff contact our Congressional Liaison, Catherine Grant, at (202) 245-7023.

Sincerely,
